

2012 AIR CANADA TOP TIER PROGRAM

The more you fly with Air Canada and Star Alliance member airlines, the closer you get to achieving Air Canada Top Tier status and all its exclusive privileges.

The 2012 Air Canada Top Tier Program has three tiers: Air Canada Prestige, Air Canada Elite and Air Canada Super Elite. Each offers a full range of Privileges, such as lounge access and priority airport & reservation services, as well as extensive Select Privileges including bonus miles, Maple Leaf Lounge Guest Passes and eUpgrade Credits that give you access to the comfort of Executive Class or Executive First.

2012 QUALIFYING CRITERIA

To achieve 2012 Air Canada Top Tier status, you will need to accumulate a minimum number of Air Canada Status Miles or Air Canada Status Flight Segments annually on eligible flights operated by Air Canada, Air Canada Express or other Star Alliance member airlines.

	PRESTIGE	ELITE	SUPER ELITE
Air Canada Status Miles	25,000	35,000	100,000
Air Canada Status Flight Segments	25	50	95

The qualifying period for 2012 Air Canada Top Tier status is from January 1, 2011 until December 31, 2011. As part of the required number of Status Miles or Status Flight Segments necessary to achieve Top Tier status, you need to earn a minimum of 10,000 Air Canada Status Miles or 5 Air Canada Status Flight Segments on eligible flights operated by Air Canada or Air Canada Express (operated by Jazz, Air Georgian Limited (doing business as Air Alliance), Exploits Valley Air Services LTD and Sky Regional Airlines). Note that Air Canada Status Miles earned in conjunction with an Unlimited Flight Pass count towards the Air Canada Minimum Flight Requirement. However, Bonus Air Canada Status Miles earned through promotional activities do not.

When you qualify for 2012 Air Canada Elite or Super Elite status before October 15, 2012, you will be awarded this status immediately. You will then enjoy Elite or Super Elite recognition for the remainder of the 2012 Privilege period. An invitation will be sent to you via e-mail to choose your exclusive 2012 Air Canada Elite or Super Elite Select Privileges.
